2 Employer information Chosen fund payment methods

If your employer is a registered Sunsuper employer (that is, they already pay contributions to Sunsuper on behalf of other members), they can simply continue using their current payment method for your contributions.

If your employer is not a registered Sunsuper employer, they can:

- 1) Become a registered employer by contacting Sunsuper on 13 11 84 or visiting sunsuper.com.au. They will then be able to enjoy additional flexibility in making payments such as direct debit or BPAY®.
- 2) Use an existing payment process they have in place to forward payments to super funds, for example, a clearing house.
- 3) Provide payments via BPAY without registering with Sunsuper. Taking this option will mean your employer will not have access to Sunsuper's range of employer services, and they won't be identified on your Annual statement. Sunsuper will not keep records of payments made by employers who haven't registered their details with us, you and your employer will be responsible for keeping records of these payments.
