Dear Sir/Madam,

I am applying for this position as a part time or casual employee. I am available to work every day throughout the summer, however will be entering university in March of 2014, and my availability may decrease. I am available weekends and public holidays as well. I'm an extremely hard-working, recently graduated student from the Queensland Academy for Science, Mathematics and Technology, a school for highly talented people interested in challenging themselves.

I believe that this would be a great job for me, as I am fantastic with people and enjoy interacting with them, I would also like to further my skills and experience. I do not have any previous work experience, I am an exceptionally fast learner and enjoy challenging myself to do further my ability. I force myself academically, and am anticipating a result of an OP 1 to 3, as well as having an ongoing social and sporting life.

I am a cheerful and enjoyable person, who can easily communicate with others. I try to be extremely cooperative and a team person in any situation. I personally believe I would be a valuable member of your team.

If you wish to contact me, preferably use my e-mail address as I check it regularly.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Kind Regards,

Jonathan Schuster
